THE FINISH AT AQUEDUCT.

QUEENS COUNTY JOCKEY CLUB'S MEETING TERMINATES SATISFACTORILY.

Fashion Plate Defeats Frank Gill in the Edgemere Handicap in Fast Time-Cressina Improves Quickly.

New York, October 3.—Aqueduct's abbreviated fall meeting of 1908 came to an end today without any untoward incident cropping up to mar the sport. District Atterney Parrin arrived on the scene early and seemed more intent on enjoying the racing than looking out for violations of the anti-betting law. Mr. Darrin even went so far as to serve in the canacity of steward during the running of the third race, The occasion was marked by the best patronage of the week, the Long Island Railroad putting on an extra special for the accommodation of racegoers. The hatch of prominent layers interdicted from doing business at Aqueduct were nearly all there, but made no effort to resume. A. J. Levy was the most conspicuous absentee, having announced his retirement for the season yesterday. Mr. Levy will leave for California in about a fortnight and will be on hand to make book at the opening of the Santa Anita racing on Thanksgiving day. George Rose was on the lawn during the afternoon. Replying to a query for odds he shook his head and said: "I am simply acting as a clearing house for my triends." This meant that if any of his fellow bookmakers wanted to lay off some of their big wagers at the closing odds he was the races had.

triends." This meant that if any of his fellow beokmakers wanted to lay off some of their big wagers at the closing odds he was there to oblige them.

The card promised excellent sport as the races had filled well and, taking it altogether, the final day of the Queens County Jockey Club's week of racing passed off with a far better feeling than has been manifest in the last few days. For the first time this senson a two-year-old distinguished himself successfully in racing over a long distance of ground with maturer horses. Fashion Plate being the hero of today's exploit in the Edgenere Stakes at one mile and a furlong, in which the vanquished horses heluded such cracks as Frank Gill. Royal Tourist and Brother Jonathan. The Oncek Stable's colt was conceded to be pleutifully endowed with speed, but of doubtful standan, as he had never been tried over a longer route than six and a half furlongs and that was converted than six and a half furlongs and that was cover the grass course. Reports of remarkably fast recent trials at the Edgenere distance, however, prepared the well informed for a probable victory and the precocious juvenile was backed accordingly. Frank Gill and Royal Tourist were both well supported, the former being are medium of a big plunge at the last moment. The race was spectacular and intensely interesting from the start, and the big crowd quivered with excited general admiration. On the turn he allowed rive through the long half-mile of the homestretics will be considered the poungster abreathing spell, with the result that the others closed up the gap separating them from him in a twinkling. With a subsequent relaxation of the taut line Fashion Plate bounded away again and withstood with dauntless courage the relentless and persistent challenges of his three older opponents, carning a half-length victory in the remarkably fast time for the day and track of 1:53;. Frank Gill got up under terrific pressure for second place in the very last stride and displayed more than aglimpse of his best form.

Gressha's improvement in the introductory dash of seven furlongs was bewilderingly sudden. The speed of the former Joyner mare was simply daxabled and made her half-dozen opponents look like a lot of huckster's horses.

The steeplechase which followed produced a cracking contest. A bad-looking fall put Pirate out of commission at the sixth jump. McKinney, the crack cross-country jockey of the season, was thrown with such force that he was rendered unconscious, not reviving for nearly a quarter of an hour. The shock was so great that it left him in a dazed condition ing contest. A bad-looking fall put Pirate out of commission at the sixth jump. McKinney, the crack cross-country jockey of the season, was thrown with such force that he was rendered unconscious, not reviving for nearly a quarter of an hour. The shock was so great that it left him in a dazed condition for the greater part of the afternoon. With the subsequent unseating of Davidson on Paprika, Bat, Sandy Creeker and Deleanta were left to contest the finish. Bat survived on the flat, Sandy Creeker, when seemingly certain of winning, giving way suddenly and unexpectedly in the last half-dozen strides. Deleanta finished pulling up and may have been qualifying.

George M. Odom uncovered a genuine stayer in Bounte Kelso, in the third race, for two-year-old platers, which drew out with such an electric rush at the end of six furlongs as to suggest that he had only been loading until then. Summer Night thred from palpable lack of condition and Lawton Wiggins was the victim of circumstances. His race today should not be taken seriously.

Ida D. found it easy to spreadeagle her opposition at one mile. Today she ran in the name and colors of E. E. Watkins. Sometimes she races in T. Murphy's name. As a matter of fact, ida D.'s veal owner, as well as breeder, is Dave Gideon.

Hill Top, which won the closing race, was the second favorite to reward the public during the afternoon. McCarthy's superior jockeyship was chiefly responsible for the outcome. His ride would have won with any one of the placed horses.

Abe Harlow, Raph Sugar and Eddle MacDonald came to the track in an auto and they had scarcely landed when the machine blew up and was burned completely. No one was injured.

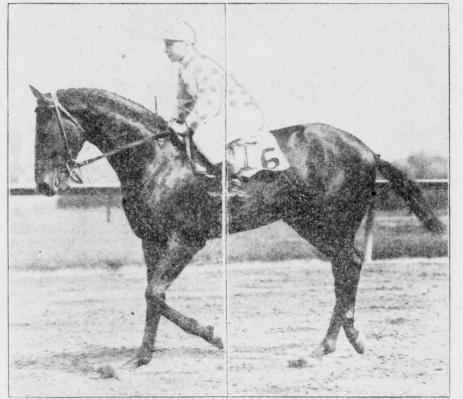

LEGAL CRUSADER'S PECULIAR POSITION.

New York, October 3.—District Attorney Darrin of Queens County, who, spurred by Governor Hughes' orders, is heading the drastic crusade against alleged bookmakers, defines his position in this way: "I am very fond of racing and have attended races for many years. Racing used to be the game; it isn't the game now. I have been here only about twenty-five minutes and I have passed through the crowds and have observed what is going on. It is very evident to me that there is betting, and plenty of it, although I have not seen money passed or neces for thirty-five years, since I was a small boy, and I can see what is being done.

"I have not determined on any line of action. I am receiving reports from a number of capable men in whom I have confidence, and on these reports will base my action. It I find sufficient evidence on which to charge violations of the law I will proceed against the parties I believe to be guilty of crime, either through the grand jury, the police magistrate, or some other authority, have the parties arrested and will prosecute the cases.

"I will not be governed by the decision of Judge Bischoff or any other judge. I will be guilded by the plain letter of the law and my ewn interpretation of it. Whether my course will be upheld or not in case of appeal will be for the higher courts to say. As the law reads every form of betting is gambiling. That is my view. It remains for the Court of Appeals to say what is the correct construction." Asked if he could swear that he had seen any violation of the law he replied that he could not.

THE SECOND BEST TWO-YEAR-OLD COLT OF THE PRESENT YEAR.

JAMES R. KEENE'S BR. C. 2, HELMET, BY DISGUISE-ST. MILDRED.

Early last spring the usual current of guessing at what might be the bright particular star among the two-year-olds in the Keene stable set in. After solae time it was agreed that it was the Disguise—St. Mildred colt. So when the names of the Keene two-year-olds were made public people interested in racing awaited the first appearance of Helmet with curriosity and impatience. Trainer Rowe did not seem to share in this and it was not until the fourth day of the Sir-epshead Bay meeting. Tuesday, June 23, that Helmet was started in a rase. This was for a purse at live-eighths of a mile and the other starters were Connaught Rauger. Turneoat, Marse Abe, Enfield, Trois Tenn and Ruxton, Helmet had up 117 pounds and, running as if not knowing what was expected of him, swerved about considerably, but drew out in the stretch and won by take we superior of him and the stretch and won by a lead of the most interest of him was recorded to the starters were Sir Martin, 129: Fayette, 129: Helmet, 122: Bobbin, 122: Esperanto, 117: Torbellino, 122, and Rossfenton, 122. Sir Martin won by two lengths and Fayette beat Helmet by a head for second money. This at once disposed of the expectation that he might prove the star colt of the year, but did not discredit his being a good one. On the last day of that meeting he ran Second to Sir Martin in the second half of the Dorble Event. Weights were the same as in the Grand Union Hotel Stakes. The track was muddy and, seemingly mable to stride freely, he ran unplaced, Edward winning. This race took place August 12. Three days later he secured ample revenge when he won the valuable Hopeful Stakes and ran its three-quarters of a mile in 1:122. The starters were Helmet, 115: Perseus, 115: Fayette, 130; Sir Martin, 130; Bobbin, 115: Statesman, 122: and Strike Out, 112. Showing extraordinary speed, Helmet led all the way and won eased up by these lengths, with Perseus second and Inyette third. His only other start was in the Fucurity. This his stablemate, Maskette, won by three lengths and Si

CONDENSED HISTORY OF THE MATRON STAKES.

The Matron has always been one of the leading events of the year for two-year-olds, but it was worth more to the winner in the first three years of its running than it has ever been since. Sir Francis taking it in the year of its greatest value. It was not run for four years following 1894, but was revived in 1899 and has been contested annually since then. In 1902 it was made a race of two divisions, one for colts and the other for fillies. The running of the colts half will be the principal feature of the first day of

GOOD WEATHER AND HORSES ATTRACT A CAPITAL ATTENDANCE AT DOUGLAS PARK.

Pinkola Defeats Lawrence P. Daley in a Gamely Contested Race-Jeff Bernstein Wins from Irfaneh with Ease.

Louisville, Ky., October 3.—Today's racing showed healthy improvement in every department. The attendance was far in excess of any day since the opening and the added speculation caused the management to put on six extra mutuel machines. Midsummer racing was the order of the day and some of the best horses in this section contested. The Shawnee Handicap at a nille and seventy yards, which featured the card, brought out the pick of western three-year-olds, and probably for a fine street in the card, brought out the pick of western three-year-olds, and probably for a fine filter of the card, brought out the pick of western three-year-olds, and probably for a fine filter of the card of the same that the was better than Lawrence P. Daley just at present. In addition, the Empire City Handicap winner also established by his victory this afternoon a record for this season for any horse of his age, it making twelve firsts for Pinkoia. His stablenate, Al Muller, and 'Red' Walker's Stanley Fay are his closest rivals in number of races won his year. Both having cleven to their credit. The handican, as a contest, was a few properties of the stablenate of the contest of the stretch turn Pinkola and Lawrence P. Daley drew ont and for the next furlong it was a royal battle between the pair. Pinkola, however, disposed of his rival in the final furlong and ran past the finish over a length and a half in the lead. Lawrence P. Daley mer with little opposition for second place in the stretch drive, as Car and Zienan fell back thorogally beaten. In addition to winning a purse with Pinkola, the Fizer stable took the opener with their sposing of a good band of smister an uses the finish over a length and a half in the lead. Lawrence P. NEW ORLEANS RACING SITUATION HANGS.

New Orleans, La., October 3.—It is not likely that Messers, Heaslip and Lagarde will be in Louisvilleon Sunday to close up the negotiations for a local holding company to take over one or both the race-tracks for the purpose of giving a locally managed race meeting of from sixty to one hundred days there is too much to do to arrange the details and get the guarantees required by the northern stockholders for Heaslip and Legarde to get back and be ready to close by that time.

Mr. Heaslip says of the project: "I would like it to be distinctly understood that racing here this winter will be a profitless business, and those forming the holding company will simply deep the custom. The ready of the purpose of offering this country listers, as has berefore been the custom. For the benefit of the public at large it should be stated that the men back of the new enterprise are some of the most prominent, in business and social circles, and not, as was reported, hotel, restaurant and cafe proprietors exclusively. It seems that the people of New Orleans, winter race meetings more strongly for condensave begun to realize the desirability of condensave begun to realize the desirability of condensave begun to realize the state of the way."

SCHREIBER'S BIG STABLES FITTING OUT.

St. Louis, Mo., October 3.—Trainer Dave Henry is about ready to leave Barney Schreiber's Woodlands farm at Bridgeton, Mo., with twenty-four horses destined to carry Schreiber's colors at Emeryville this season. Herman Brandt will start west from the Schreiber farm a little later with a carload of selected horses, also bound for Emeryville. In Brandt's string will be Jack Atkin, which horse will be pointed for the Burns Handleap and other valuable fixtures of the California season. John Powers will have charge of the stable that Schreiber will campaign at Santa Anita. This consignment will not start west for some weeks. Schreiber is now at the farm and sends word that he will surely reach the coast in time to book at Emeryville on the opening day. He probably will alternate between the two California tracks during the winter. St Louis, Mo., October 3 .- Trainer Dave Henry

BIG CROWD VIEWS HAMILTON RACING.

Redgauntlet First in the Feature Race, but Is Disqualified for Fouling.

Disqualified for Fouling.

Hamilton, Ont., October 3.—Many of the horsemen racing here will ship to Washington at the close of the meeting, where a six days' running meeting will be held beginning October 12. Among the owners who will ship to Washington are James McLaughlin, James Boden, Amos Turney, E. A. Whitney, John Cheney, J. C. Nally, George E. Dudley, Roger Minton, Robert Boyle, Theo Cook, A. Bailer and A. Molinelli.

The Autumn Handicap, the feature race at Hamilton this afternoon, was robbed of much of its in terest by the disqualification of the heavily backed odds-on favorite, Redgauntlet, after the latter had won easily from W. H. Carey. Redgauntlet was ridden by Garner, was best and could have won further off had his rider so wished. In the early running Garner dropped Redgauntlet alongside of Laily and the pair raced along like a team until well inside the furlong post, where Redgauntlet forged to the front and at the end was going away. W. H. Carey, as usual, trailed until entering the homestretch, where he came to the outside, but at the sixteenth post cut across to the inside and at tempted to come through between Lally and Redgauntlet. At this point Laily bore out a bit and bumped W. H. Carey. Redgauntlet at the same time swerved over to the inside, but apparently did not touch W. H. Carey. After Burns weighed in hepromptly claimed foul and after some little deliberation it was allowed by the stewards. The change in the placing gave first money to W. H. Carey and second to Lally.

Favorites won three of the races, the successfur choices being Simcoe, Prince of Plisen and Cooney K. The best contest and closest finish of the after noon came with the running of the seventh race, which was over the turf course. The first three horses passed the judges' stand heads apart with Miss Catesby coming from behind with a well-timed rush and getting up in the last couple of strides.

The attendance exceeded in point of numbers that of the opening day. So large was the crowd from Toronto that it was found n sen pulled up very lame after his victory this atternoon.

Several claims were put in for the mare Cloister ess after she was beaten in the fifth race and B Hincken, owner of Manhelmer, which finished third, secured her for $670.

A. S. Valentine, under whose auspices the meet ing at Jamestown, Va., was given, arrived from New York this morning. He reported that Jamestown has bright future and that despite the fact that he lost money on the venture this fall, he contemplated giving another meeting there next spring.

Uncle Toby, the good three-year-old in John Dyment's string, has been fired.

All but four of the big string which J. E. Seagram has in training are suffering from the skin disease so common up here. The stable will go into winter quarters at the conclusion of the Hamilton meeting.

BELMONT PARK STAKE RACING.

The Belmont Park autumn meeting begins tomorrow afternoon. But four days of the week will be devoted to racing. Tuesday and Friday being blank days at the big track. The colts' half of the Matron Stakes will be the stake feature tomorrow, the names of the announced starters being given elsewhere. Wednesday afternoon the Jerome Handican for three-year-olds at a mile and five-sixteenths will be run. It has $3.000 added and Fair Play Master Robert, Dorante, Angelus, Beaucoup, Stamina, Royal Tourist, Falcada and Brother Jonathan may start. The fillies' half of the Matron Stakes is set for decision Thursday. It gives promise of a good race with Field Mouse, Mediant, Maskette, Affliction, Miss Kearney, Hill Top and Petticoat as the most probable contestants.

The Brook Cup Steeplechase, Nursery Handicar and Municipal Handicap are set for Saturday. The Brook Gup entries were recently published in Daily Racing Form. For the rich Nursery, Helmet, Selectman, Field Mouse, Mediant, Etherial, High Private, Statesman, Melisande, Joe Madden, Edward, Lady Hubbard, Trance, Bobbin, Perseus and Sea Cliff bold out cheerful prospects of a capital contest. The distance is three-quarters, with $4.000 added. The Municipal Handicap is at a mile and three-quarters, with $3.500 added, and Blue Book, Tourenne, Fair Play, Brother Jonathan, Running Water, Master Robert, Angelus, Philander, Frank Gill, Monfort and Beaucoup are among the eligibles that are fit and may be sent over the long journey.

NO RACE TRACK QUESTION IN NEW YORK,

Chairman William J. Conners of the Democratic State Committee says in a Sun interview that the Democrats did not intend to bring up the race track question in their campaign. "We are not a party of race track men," he declared. "and we shall confine ourselves to fighting Hughes on other issues than on the one as to whether gambling shall be allowed on the race tracks. Except in New York. Saratoga and Buffalo, where there are race tracks, the people of the state don't give a damn about this betting trouble."

Asked if in the event of the Democrats controlling the next legislature there would be an effort made to restore the old law Mr. Conners replied:

"I don't know; we haven't got to that stage of the game yet, but so far as I know there has been no talk among the leaders of the party concerning the repeal of the governor's race track bills."

BALTIMORE OBJECTS TO CHANGING DATES

New York, October 3.—Robert Walden, of the Maryland Jockey Club, had a conference with the officials of the Metropolitan Jockey Club. It has been suggested that the Baltimore meeting take the dates abandoned by Aqueduct and thus avoid conflict with the meeting at Jamaica at the end of this month. Mr. Walden did not appear to be disposed to do this, but the matter will be referred to Thomas Clyde, one of the principal stockholders in the Pimlico track, and may be amicably arranged.

PROBABLE MATRON RIDERS AND ODDS.

New York, October 3.—The field for the colts half of the famous Matron Stakes is the smalles in the history of the big juvenile fixture. Unless increased by added starters, only Helmet, Joe Madden and Practical will contest for the rich prize The probable riders and overnight odds are:

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Judge C. H. Pettingill of the Jockey Club is on crutches these days with a badly injured foot. Jockey C. Koerner has gone to Los Angeles, where he expects to ride for S. C. Hildreth during the winter.

Old Dolly Spanker has become as whimsical as an actress and entirely unreliable as a race horse. He has raced eight times this season with but one minor win and earned but $380.

Jockey H. Smith, who has been under suspension for more than a year, married recently a St. Louis girl at Los Angeles. He will make an attempt to obtain reinstatement by the Pacific Jockey Club.

Following a special meeting of the New England Horse Breeders' Association Wednesday it was an-nounced by Secretary Jewett that the Readville race track will be sold under the hammer in the course of foreclosure proceedings.

of foreclosure proceedings.

Archie Zimmer considers Yankee Daughter, which won a race for him Thursday, the bargain of the season at $500, which he paid for her, and which Charley Ellison considered finding money. It all depends on the view-point.

J. F. Bartlett, the purchaser of Live Wire, intends to race the colt a few times before shipping to Baltimore, where his string is quartered. Walter Condon, trainer for Mr. Bartlett, has trained successfully for many years in western and southern stables.

Jockey C. Russell, who was one of the "finds" of the Seattle meeting, has reported for duty to O. A. Bianchi in California, who holds the contract on him. Russell was loaned for the summer to W. M. Caine. Bianchi has some serviceable horses and Russell will have an excellent chance to make good at Oakland.

Upon reaching the coast Enoch Wishard decided to take the eastern division of A. B. Spreckels' stable to Napa Stock Farm to recuperate from the effects of the transcontinental trip instead of unloading at the Emeryville track. The entire Spreckels string will be "prepped" at the farm and shipped to the track about November 5.

Master Robert, the star three-year-old of the stable of Samuel Emery, will finish the season at Belmont Park. He will start there, Andy Blakeley, his trainer, says, in the Municipal Handleap and Belmont Park Autumn Weight-for-Age race. He will be left at Gravesend for the winter and not go with Blakeley and the other horses to California.

If you do, no wonder you lose. Let me place you on the right track. On this track you can make from $10 to $20 per day. I have done it for years and you can do the same at race track, poolroom or in a handbook. It makes no difference—this is no experiment, but a genuine reality. I made $3,000 last year and you can do the same.
